Intersec Europe 2027: Messe Frankfurt launches new trade fair for integrated security technology in Frankfurt

Frankfurt am Main, 14 October 2026
Intersec Europe will make its debut in Frankfurt am Main from 14 to 16 September 2027. For the first time, this new European platform brings together solutions for physical security, cybersecurity and AI in an integrated approach – with a clear focus on the protection of buildings, businesses and critical infrastructure. At the heart of the event are the specific requirements of operators and end users, as well as decision-makers who shape security strategies and are responsible for investment decisions. With Intersec Europe, Messe Frankfurt is expanding the globally recognised Intersec brand with a standalone event in Frankfurt am Main.

With Intersec Europe, taking place in Frankfurt am Main from 14 to 16 September 2027, Messe Frankfurt is establishing a new international trade fair for integrated security solutions for the European market. Emerging threats and new EU-level regulations are changing the requirements placed on businesses, public authorities and operators. Intersec Europe addresses these developments by combining the exhibition with a conference, networking and business matchmaking. The focus is on products, technologies and services designed to protect buildings, business premises, public spaces and infrastructure. Exhibiting companies will present integrated security solutions ranging from video surveillance, access control and perimeter protection to fire detection and alarm systems, cybersecurity and AI applications. Leading industry players are supporting Intersec Europe right from the start, thereby underlining the importance of the trade fair. These include: Abus, Assa Abloy, Dormakaba, ECO Schulte, GEZE, Hodapp, NSC, Salto and Winkhaus.

Wolfgang Marzin, President and Chief Executive Officer of Messe Frankfurt, comments: “For more than 20 years, we have been staging Intersec Global in Dubai, one of the world’s leading international trade fairs for the security industry. In Frankfurt, we are now drawing on this experience, our global network and the strength of our international trade fair portfolio, comprising 13 events. With Intersec Europe, we are creating a dedicated platform for the European market.”

As a pan-European event, Intersec Europe brings leading security technology providers together with the decision-makers who plan, procure and deploy products and solutions for buildings and critical infrastructure. These include specialist planners, engineering and consultancy firms, system integrators, security professionals, building and infrastructure operators, as well as technical procurement professionals.

Intersec Europe is the latest addition to Messe Frankfurt's global 'Safety, Security & Fire' trade fair portfolio and builds on the internationally established Intersec brand. The portfolio comprises 13 events in total and supports the dynamic growth of the security industry in key markets worldwide. Intersec is represented in Dubai, Argentina, Saudi Arabia and China. Under the Secutech brand, Messe Frankfurt offers platforms in Taiwan, Thailand, India and Vietnam. Further specialist conferences and events in Bulgaria, Romania, Croatia and India complete the portfolio.
